

Income of Gay Men Lags Behind that of Men Partnered with Women

Among all full-time employed men ages 25-54, the median earnings of partnered gay men are $3,000 below the income of men partnered with women (married and unmarried). Thirty-six states do not prohibit employment discrimination based on sexual orientation.

Median Earnings, 1999 Full-time Employed Cohabiting and Married Men

Source: Urban Institute, Census 2000 (1% Public Use Microdata Sample).
Research supported by the Human Rights Campaign Foundation.