

Promising and Innovative Practices for Children of Incarcerated Parents: Arrest through Pre-Adjudication

June 3rd, 2015 – Live Webinar Agenda

Note: Times are EST

Introduction

12:30 Gregory Crawford, correctional program specialist, National Institute of Corrections

Session 1: Parental Arrest Protocols

12:35 Introduction -- Bryce Peterson, research associate, Urban Institute

12:40 Panelist Presentations

- Gregory Suhr, chief of police, San Francisco Police Department
- Samara Marion, policy attorney, San Francisco Office of Citizen Complaints
- Jill Brant, legal services supervisor, Allegheny County Department of Human Services/ Office of Children, Youth and Families

1:25 Audience Q&A

Session 2: Family Impact Statements

2:00 Introduction -- Jocelyn Fontaine, senior research associate, Urban Institute

2:05 Panelist Presentations

- Wendy Still, former chief adult probation officer, San Francisco Adult Probation Department
- Patricia Donohue, juvenile operations and training director, New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services, Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives

2:35 Audience Q&A

Session 3: Family-Focused Jail Services

3:00 Introduction -- Bryce Peterson, research associate, Urban Institute

3:05 Panelist Presentations

- Amy Kroll, administrator of re-entry, Allegheny County Jail and Amanda Ludwig, Family Services of Western Pennsylvania
- Sarah Carson, One Family program director, Community Works West

3:35 Audience Q&A

Session 4: Successful Collaboration

4:00 Introduction -- Jocelyn Fontaine, senior research associate, Urban Institute

4:05 Panelist Presentations

- Nell Bernstein, former chair, San Francisco Children of Incarcerated Parents
- Tanya Krupat, program director, New York Initiative for Children of Incarcerated Parents, The Osborne Association

4:35 Audience Q&A