

Demographic Divide or Opportunity?

The Implications of Demographic Change for Human and Community Development in America

Breakfast & Morning Program

8:30 – 9:00 am Breakfast

9:00 – 9:30 am Welcome and Setting the Stage

- Donna Butts, executive director, Generations United
- Hilary Pennington, vice president, Ford Foundation
- Sarah Rosen Wartell, president, Urban Institute (moderator)

9:30 – 10:30 am New Rules: Realigning Education, Careers and Retirement in the Knowledge Economy

This panel will explore how workforce and education strategies need to adapt and incorporate opportunities for lifelong learning, flexible workplaces and encore careers. Panelists will include experts in higher education, young adult advocacy, and federal education policy.

Moderator: Hilary Pennington, vice president, Ford Foundation

- Anthony Carnevale, director, Center on Education and Workforce, Georgetown University
- Aaron Smith, cofounder and senior strategic advisor, Young Invincibles
- David Johns, executive director, White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for African Americans, Department of Education
- Josh Wyner, executive director, College Excellence Program, Aspen Institute

10:30 – 10:45 am Break

10:45 – 11:45 am Civic Engagement: Building Intergenerational Cultural Capital

This panel will explore mechanisms that bring young and old together through service and participatory democracy. Panelists will include experts on volunteerism, participatory budgeting and political participation.

Moderator: Donna Butts, executive director, Generations United

- Shirley Sagawa, visiting fellow, Center for American Progress
- Hollie Russon Gilman, civic innovation fellow, New America Foundation
- Asim Mishra, chief of staff, Corporation for National and Community Service
- Matthew Segal, cofounder and president, OurTime.org

Luncheon & Keynote Speakers

11:45 – 1:15 pm Networking Luncheon

Keynote Speakers:

- Betsey Stevenson, member, White House Council of Economic Advisers
- Justin Wolfers, senior fellow, The Brookings Institution

Afternoon Program

1:15 – 1:30 pm

Setting the Stage Redux

For those who missed the morning session, this session will provide context for the conversation by reviewing the themes in the report Out of Many, One.

1:30 – 3:00 pm

Reshaping American Cities: Preparing for Housing and Transportation Demand from Seniors and Millennials

This panel will focus on how urban infrastructure should change to accommodate the new needs of active seniors who want to age in place and millennials who want to live, work and play in the same space. Panelists will include national and local experts on housing and transportation policy.

Moderator: Angela Glover Blackwell, founder and CEO, PolicyLink

- James Corless, director, Transportation for America
- Erika Poethig, Institute Fellow and director of urban policy initiatives, Urban Institute
- Harriet Tregoning, director, Office of Economic Resilience, United States Department of Housing and Urban Development
- Anita Hairston, associate director, PolicyLink

3:00 – 3:30 pm

Where Do We Go From Here?

Wi-Fi access is available

Username: UIGuest

Password: urban2100