How much lower would federal health care spending be under the Senate bill (BCRA) than under the ACA in 2022?

The data show how much lower federal health care spending would be in each state under the Senate's Better Care Reconciliation Act (BCRA) than under the ACA in 2022. Federal health care spending includes Medicaid, CHIP, nongroup premium tax credits, and cost-sharing reductions (the last under the ACA only) for people younger than age 65. For more information on data and methods, see the full paper: http://www.urban.org/research/publication/state-state-coverage-and-government-spending-implications-better-care-reconciliation-act